Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong,

Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

We are authorized to announce A. HOWARD STAMPER, of Wolfe county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the 91st Legislative district of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held July 1, 1911.

Correspondence

INDEX.

Farmers are busy working corn.

Miss Essie B. McClain, of Lexington, who has been visiting her grandfather, B. M. Carr, for some time, returned home Saturday.

Miss Fannie Reed spent last week with her grandparents near Wellsville.

Miss Bertha Byrd, of Breathitt county, was visiting relatives here last week.

Asa Elam, of Mt. Sterling, who has been visiting relatives here the last week, returned home Monday.

Circuit Court convenes Monday, the 26th, and if we are not deceived in the make-up of the grand jury it would be a good time to start the vote selling probe, as the primary comes the 1st of July, just 5 days later, it would have a good effect and no doubt would do much toward stopping the vote traffic. Let 'er come says PIGHEAD.

ELKFORK.

Sheriff Ned Hamilton and Constable Forest Franklin were here on the 3rd and 4th making some arrests and preparing for circuit court.

Judge I. C. Ferguson passed through our place Saturday.

Quite a crowd of young folks were entertained last Saturday night by T. P. Conley and wife.

Ethel Conley, we are glad to note, is improving.

A large crowd attended church last Sunday at the Albert Hutchinson grave yard.

T. P. Conley was at West Liberty the 5th on business.

We have been supplied with two good rains the past week, which was badly needed.

John L. Skaggs, of Redwine, was here Saturday.

BAD BOY.

GRASSY CREEK.

Our home has been made sad by the death of our mother-in-law, Margaret E. Pieratt, whose obituary appeared in last week's issue of the Courier. T. H. Testerman and wife, of Lexington, attended the funeral services conducted by Elder W. I. Gevedon. Also, Dr. F. M. Carter, of Farmers, the deceased younger brother, was present.

Mrs. A. B. McKinney, of Morehead, is visiting her sister, Maggie Nickell.

Elder E. H. Burnam, of Richmond, attended the meeting at Grassy Lick the 4th Saturday and Sunday and preached some very instructive sermons.

Uncle Joe Cundiff, who has been critically ill for some time, is thought to be improving.

There was quite a number of friends and relatives met at the several grave yards and scattered flowers on the graves of loved ones deceased.

The speaking at Goodwins Chapel Wednesday was attended with a good crowd of citizens, at which time and place both gas and oratory was dealt out unsparingly and in a most fluent manner. I don't know whether the meeting was attended with much enthusiasm or not, as I was not present. Let every voter survey the political field and vote for the best interest of his country.

Let every good subscriber for his country, and learn why.

FAIR PLAY.

CAMPTON.

One of the largest crowds that ever assembled in Wolfe county attended the laying of the corner stone of the Industrial College at Pine Ridge on Thursday the 25th ult. The speakers all delivered able addresses but it is generally conceded that A. H. Stamper's speech was one of the most masterful and eloquent speeches ever delivered on an occasion of this kind. He urged every citizen of Wolfe and adjoining counties to give their moral and financial support to this institution, and help make it one of the best schools in Eastern Kentucky, and which means so much to the future of Wolfe county and the rising generation.

I see that Bro. Nick, of Ezel and Murphy, goes after Bro. Pighead and tells of the great things that Horton has done for Wolfe county and asks him "to come again please if you have the nerve." Bro. Nick is either trying to deceive the people or is absolutely void of any respect for the truth when he says that two years ago when Horton was campaign chairman of Wolfe, that Wolfe county gave the Democratic nominee the largest majority ever given in this county before. The truth is there was the greatest fall off in the Democratic vote in this county that ever was before in the representatives race. Malone Lykins, as good a man as ever lived, and a young man who had as bright prospects for the future as any man in Eastern Kentucky, and whose star of hope was blighted by his defeat, received only 130 majority in the campaign of which Bro. Nick boasts. It is well known by everyone that this fall off in the vote was not because the people had anything against Malone Lykins. It can be further established that Horton as campaign chairman received the largest campaign fund that any chairman previous to this time had ever received. Horton had headquarters in the St. Cloud hotel in Campton and never did anything for any Democratic nominee in that race except issue funds as directed by an advisory committee. And then for Bro. Nick to try to deceive the voters in such a manner shows that he has his nerve or he would not dare write such stuff as that when everybody knows it is not true. DEMOCRAT.

EBON

A large audience attended church at Omer Sunday. Prof. Wiloughby preached two good sermons, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon.

Gabriel Banks established a Sunday School at Omer Sunday evening. The people appeared very much interested.

A very successful singing school closed Sunday at the Goad school. J. H. Fugate, teacher.

Memorial services were held May 30th, at Barker-Prater cemetery. A large assembly were present, and after decorating the graves delivered an instructive address. McGuire of Hays.

Please do not be too rough with Pighead. I did not catch anything in his writing which defines his views clearly for whom he intends to stand in the coming primary for Representative. He may be for Horton, or Stamper or Dyer for aught I know; it is his high privilege. I, for one, at this writing am for Mr. Horton and shall not change my views unless I find I am in the wrong. I believe we should all talk less and think more. Let us not with our gab prepare food to defeat the nominee whoever it be.

Marie, the little daughter of Claude and Emma McGuire, who has been dangerously sick, is improving. ROUGH RIDER.

My Doctor Said

"Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. I got able to be up and help do my housework. I continued to take the medicine, and now I am able to do my housework and to care for my children, and I feel as though I could never praise Cardui enough for the benefits I have received."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Cardui is successful, because it is made especially for women, and acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Cardui does one thing, and does it well. If you are a woman, feel tired, dull, and are nervous, cross and irritable, it's because you need a tonic. Why not try Cardui? Cardui builds, strengthens, restores, and acts in every way as a special, tonic remedy for women. Test it for yourself. Your druggist sells Cardui. Ask him.

WINCHESTER
Repeating Shotguns

USED IN THE U. S. ARMY.

The U. S. Army authorities know a gun; that is why, when they decided to equip some troops with repeating shotguns, they selected the Winchester in preference to all other makes. The experts of the U. S. Ordnance Board also know a gun; that's why, after submitting a Winchester Repeating Shotgun to all sorts of tests, they pronounced it safe, sure, strong and simple. If you want a shotgun—buy the one whose strength and reliability led the U. S. Army authorities to select it and the U. S. Ordnance Board to endorse it—that's the Winchester.

Poultry Breeding

How to Choose a Breed, Mate and Rear
Fowls That Will Give Largest Net Returns
By PROF. J. G. HALPIN
Wisconsin College of Agriculture

Copyright, 1910, by Western Newspaper Union

The universal question of the farmer interested in poultry is "What breed will prove most profitable for general farm purposes?" He incessantly besieges the poultry fancier, the editors of poultry journals and similar authorities on chickens with this query. It is impossible to answer this question in the way the farmer desires. He expects a particular breed to be named outright and characterized as the premier money-maker of all varieties.

Due to the great similarity existing between the breeds, extreme variations in local conditions exist. As a result of individual peculiarities and preferences of the owners of the flocks, no one breed can be named as the most profitable for all farm purposes.

In general, the dual-purpose breeds, capable of both meat and egg production, are best adapted to farm conditions. Specialized varieties are impractical for the general farm, as they require too much attention and care. The farmer needs a bird with much in some brush pile nest wherein the chicks are hatched. Another hen will produce 150 eggs annually under the proper conditions of housing and care. From which of these settings of eggs should one select the stock with which to replenish the breeding pens? Too often the choice is made of the inferior brush pile-reared roughers concealing whose egg-producing qualities and prolificacy the farmer knows little.

Always breed from the hens which lay the best in the fall as they best serve this purpose. Never save eggs for setting from a sluggish hen that hangs around the roost "drowsy" and sleepy and displays an inactive, listless disposition. The habits of the hen can be studied best in the winter and this season is the proper time to select breeding stock.

Accurate and rigid selection of breeding stock should commence early. Study the flock carefully, especially as regards the laying hens which have the reddest combs and which hover around the nests. Those vitality and constitution which will be able to rough it with a minimum amount of attention.

Some people have a natural aptitude for certain breeds and by the practice of careful, painstaking selection can obtain the best results from their use. Anyone who constantly over-looks should select one of the special egg-producing types rather than a meat-producing bird. The Leghorn is the variety best adapted for such classes of fowls.

Choosing a Breed.
The average countryman, according to his natural preference, should choose one of the dual purpose breeds for the farm henner. Any of the common varieties, Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Rhode Island Red or Orpington, should satisfy the farmer for a rough-and-ready, hardy, profitable fowl. Any special preference for birds of a certain color can be readily satisfied by the wide range of colors offered in the varieties of these breeds. A very misleading idea prevails among many inexperienced poultrymen that the color of the fowl radically affects its egg production. This is an imaginary view of the unfounded as the color of the bird is of no importance in determining capacity for production.

There are some commendable features about the variety in the feathering of the breeds. The white fowl is admirable, due to the fact that no colored pin-feathers disfigure the dressed bird. On the other hand the white breeds present certain disadvantages, such as the fact that they are more conspicuous and afford inviting prey to hawks, and are hard to keep clean and presentable.

One Breed Best.
A crying evil in rural poultry husbandry is the attempt to maintain more than one breed on the farm. The countryman should definitely decide on the breed best adapted to his conditions and then should work only with this variety. The common condemnatory practice of the farmer is to maintain one breed for a time and about when this breed is proving successful, an alluring advertisement or a snappy bit of news matter characterizing some other breed as a "world beater" causes him to change the variety which he is raising.

This continual shifting of breeds reacts upon the farmer's pocketbook and results in no good. A rigid rule should be followed: "Select the breed which has proved its merit and then adhere to this choice." Any of the above-named breeds will prove profitable if rigid selection of breeding stock is enforced and ordinary care is afforded the fowls. The search of the farmer for a perfect breed instead of devoting his energies toward the improvement of his present variety should be condemned and derided. The countryman is not going to discover any such model variety no matter how ardent his search. He must develop his present breed by means of rigid selection, elimination of inferior stock, and the introduction of the best.

NOTES
The farmer should not be misled by the claims of the "world beater" breed. The only way to improve a breed is by selecting the best and breeding from them.
